

MANY VOICES, ONE HERITAGE

A celebration of Hungarian culture in Calgary

Many Voices, One Heritage: A celebration of Hungarian culture in Calgary traces the history of Hungarian immigration to Calgary through photographs and compelling personal stories of Hungarian Veterans' Association Calgary Chapter founders and descendants. It reflects the stories—the voices—of current Association members and friends with strong ties to Calgary's Hungarian community.

This book recognizes 65 years of achievement by the Hungarian Veterans' Association Calgary Chapter, the 60-year tradition of the Hungária Gala Ball, and the resilience, spirit, and legacy of Calgary's Hungarian community. Many Voices, One Heritage reveals that the Hungarian immigration story—like so many immigration stories—shares the universal theme of the human spirit rising above the most extreme circumstances in search of a better life.

Many voices, reflecting one heritage, come together to honour the resilience, spirit, and legacy of Hungarian culture in Calgary.

$10 – Paperback
February 2016
84 pages
ISBN 978-1-77136-422-5

For more information, or to order Many Voices, One Heritage, please contact: info@hungariaball.com

About the author: Anna Rebus has 20 years of experience as an author, archaeologist, historian, interpretive planner, and museum specialist. Mrs. Rebus is currently completing a Master's degree in Heritage and Interpretation. She holds a Master's degree in Museum Studies and Bachelor degrees in Archaeology & Museum Studies and Geography & Urban Studies. Mrs. Rebus has written dozens of publications, including history books and school textbooks. Her books include Inside the Royal Tyrrell Museum of Palaeontology and Airdrie 1909-2009: Celebrating 100 Years of History, Community and Opportunity. Mrs. Rebus has a passion for natural and cultural heritage, and this is reflected in her desire to discover and share the stories of people, cultures, and the world around us.